FEDERAL EMPLOYEE HELD IN COUNTERFEIT PLOT

Man to Make and Circulate Bogus $1000 Bills Declared Nipped by Arrests at Capital

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—A nation-wide conspiracy to make and distribute counterfeit Treasury notes of $1000 denomination has been nipped in the bud, according to secret service agents, through the arrest of James C. Houghton, employee of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, and Curt Jackson of New York.

Houghton, both with conspiracy to counterfeit and distribute counterfeit notes, were arrested before United States Marshal McDonald arrived here for the grand jury.
Houghton furnished bond of $1000 and was released, but Jackson today was held in custody to await his trial. He is charged with making and circulating counterfeit $1000 notes in New York and other cities in the United States, and with the assault on the photographic process of the agents arrested, was charged with conspiracy.

President to Give Congress

Arctic Flight

Naval Officials Believe
Delays Will Prevent
Move This Year

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—President Coolidge today ordered preparations for the naval North Pole expedition suspended. By direction of the President, Secretary Denby sent out orders bringing all preparations for the flight of the Shenandoah to an abrupt stop pending some form of Congressional approval of the project.

A White House spokesman indicated that if such approval were forthcoming, preparations would be resumed immediately. Naval officials were frankly doubtful, however, that they could obtain Congressional sanction in time to carry out the flight this year.

The decision of the President was announced in the following statement issued by Secretary
Denby:

"Orders to cease preparations for the polar expedition were issued today by the Secretary of the Navy. The President having informed that considerable opposition existed to the required expenditure of $250,000, instructed the department not to proceed with the expedition at this time nor until the naval bills have been considered and Congress given an opportunity, if it desires, to express its opinion on the subject."

Secretary Denby's statement was a principal in a discussion held last November
between the President and Senator Dill. At that time, the President had indicated his inclination to support a decree and the Senate had expressed its opposition.

Grand Jury Inquiries Into Veterans' Bureau Planned for Several Cities

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—More than a year may be required for the completion of the Federal investigation of alleged graft in the Veterans' Bureau during the administration of Col. Charles R.
Forbes, those in touch with the grand jury inquiry now being conducted here, declared today.

Guards prohibited any questioning of the several witnesses called before the grand jury. The grand jury today was maintained in secrecy while Special Prosecutor
John H. W. Crim has enforced
since the outset a strict information in the bureau for dental work was said to have been taken up by the grand jury. Bureau records show that about half of 5,500,000 service men have received dental work free from the government since 1913 and that disbursements to vendentists in 1922 were $5,627,851.

YANKEE GOLD REPORTED BACK OF DE LA HUERTA

Obregon Delays Drastic Action Against Prominent American Pending Washington Word

(BY FREDERICK WRIGHT)
(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 15.—A prominent American in Mexico City is reported to be involved, among other foreigners, in financing the revolution of Adolfo de la Huerta, formerly a member of the Obregon Cabinet.

The Mexican government captured numerous documents during its recent victories, and it has been conducting an extensive investigation into persons financing
the revolution.

In this connection a decree was recently issued confiscating the properties and bank accounts of persons known to have been associated with the revolution. The decrees require that the names of statements of their accounts, and in this way Americans and others alleged to be implicated were discovered.

It is understood that the authorities are keeping a close watch on these foreigners, but they are reluctant to take drastic action, particularly regarding Americans, in view of the present friendly attitude of the United States, until some unofficial intimation has been received from Washington that such action would be favorably countenanced. Such an intimation is expected within the next few days.

President Obregon with his staff entered Guadalupe today amid great merry-making. Children strewn flowers in his path and all the church bells were rung. The main army entered the city yesterday according to telegraphic reports.

Maj. Eduardo Arreano were executed at daybreak in the cemetry of Nuevo Laredo by a firing squad from the garrison of the city.
Gen. Laredo was a prominent figure in the revolution and was son-in-law of Nicoforo Zambrano,
the former Governor of Nuevo Laredo. The remaining fifteen prisoners have not yet received their sentences.

MULHOLLAND IN DAM PLEA

Tells House Committee Los Angeles Needs Water Boulder Project Would Make Available

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles Aqueduct, occupied the witness chair today during the entire morning and afternoon session of the hearing on the Colorado River dam bill presented to Congress by Congressman Swing.

Mulholland said in effect that no more water could be developed by the city of Los Angeles and that Owens River Valley and that the development of both a water and power supply by a dam in the Colorado River at Boulder Canyon was necessary for the future water supply of Los Angeles. He admitted that it would take six to seven years to lift the water from Boulder Canyon, but said that that was one of the reasons that the city wanted this supply. He said there was no other place to get enough water to supply Los Angeles and the dam at Boulder Canyon with its disposal of silt there would furnish a good water supply for an even greater city than Los Angeles is now.

Congressman Carl Hayden and others cross-examined Mulholland,
but he answered that other projects suggested for the flood control of the Colorado were all less attractive and practical than the one suggested for Boulder Canyon. Mr.
Mulholland concluded his testimony late this afternoon and started for Los Angeles this evening.

SENATOR IS WOUNDED

Dry Agent's Shot Goes Wild

F. L. Greene of Vermont is Struck by Bullet Aimed at Bootleggers

Victim Hit While Walking
With Wife on Street in National Capital

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—United States Senator Frank L. Greene of Vermont was shot and seriously wounded while walking in Pennsylvania avenue near the Capitol tonight by a prohibition agent in pursuit of bootleggers.

Senator Greene and his wife were walking toward their home at the Driscoll Hotel at the foot of Capitol Hill. As they were passing an alley running into Pennsylvania avenue, near John Marshall Place, they heard shooting.
The Senator sought to locate the trouble. As he stepped toward the alley the shooting continued and one bullet struck him in the forehead above the left eye. He sank into the arms of his wife just as an automobile filled with bootleggers dashed out of the alley into avenue.

The automobile was pursued by Otis E. Fischer, prohibition agent attached to the Prohibition Commissioner's office here. He had been pursuing the bootleggers and had fired the shots, one of which had struck the Senator. When Fischer saw that he had injured
an innocent bystander he hastened to his aid, the fugitive bootleggers escaping.

RETAINS SENSES
Senator Greene did not lose consciousness and asked that he be hastened to a hospital. Fischer with the aid of policemen who had been with him in the alley, called an ambulance and the Senator, accompanied by his wife, was taken to the Emergency Hospital.

Physicians, after a hurried examination of the Senator's wound,
were apprehensive that the bullet had been lodged in the skull near the top of the head, but it was decided not to probe for it tonight, inasmuch as the brain did not appear to be affected.

Senator Greene remained conscious during the examination and said that his head felt clear. It was decided to take an X-ray examination before probing for the bullet. The doctor felt assured that the wound would not prove fatal.

The shooting followed a scheme
by Prohibition Agent Fischer and the policemen to trap a boot-legger who offered to sell them a bottle of whisky. They had followed him into the alley where he had his stock concealed in a barrel.

SIGHTS STILL
While the policemen waited in the "saloon" car, Fischer went to the barrel with his prospective victim. Just as he received the bottle of liquor, another automobile was discovered a few yards away
with engine running and top tilted back. In the darkness Fischer perceived that in the tonneau of the car was a whisky still which the occupants of the car were preparing to unload.

Fischer started toward the machine. The driver saw him coming and opened fire on him, sleeping on the gun at the same time.
As the car passed him, Fischer returned the fire and continued firing as he ran down the alley.

Just before the car reached the street, Senator Greene reached the alley and was struck.
Senator Greene, who is a dry supporter, is serving his first term in the Senate after five terms in the House. He is a Republican who did conspicuous service as a member of the House Military Affairs Committee during the war and prepared with Representative Julius Kahn, Republican, of California, the so-called "dry bill,"
which the then Democratic chairman, Representative Dent of Alabama, who was a pacifist, took little interest in.

JOHNSON QUITS BATTLE FIELD

California Senator Campaign- ing Despite Big Work on in Washington

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—
With the investigation of the oil scandal on in full blast
before the Senate committee, the Mellon tax bill, soldiers' bonus bill, and many other important pieces of legislation pending, Senator Hiram Johnson of California, has left Washington to make a campaign tour of the Middle West in the interests of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for President. Senator Johnson is one of the few members of the Senate and House to absent himself from his post
of duty in the present crisis.

Mr. Johnson's departure has been a disappointment to those who expected him to assist in the investigation of the oil scandal. He is expected to return to Washington in a few
days.

BRITISH RUM NOTE AWAITED
Hughes Hopes Macdonald Will End Misuse of Union Jack as Cloak for Liquor Runners

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Answer by the British government to the latest American communication in connection with the seizure beyond the three-mile limit of the British flag schooner Tokoma as an alleged rum runner is expected by Washington officials to disclose in a specific way the extent to which the new British Ministry is willing to go in its announced desire to protect the British flag from misuse in connection with liquor smuggling traffic.

The London government, it was learned today, now has before it a note from Secretary Hughes setting out in detail the reasons why the United States government believes that the British flag in the Tokoma case does not constitute a protection against the operations of prohibition enforcement laws.

DIFFICULT SITUATION
Premier Macdonald in outlining his policies at the inception of his new Ministry, declared the various liquor cases which resulted in controversy with the American government to be vexatious and intimated that he desired to prevent use of British registry to protect liquor smuggling operations.
Before his government came into office, however, the British Foreign Office had protested against the seizure of the Tokoma.

Secretary Hughes in reply to that protest asserted that while the ship was in fact under the British flag she was Americanowned and the entire enterprise
was an effort of American citizens to use the British flag as a cloak for operations punishable by American law.

LEGAL PRECEDENT CITED
Legal precedent for ignoring technical detail of foreign registry in such cases is understood to have been recited by Secretary Hughes.

It is felt in Washington that if the British government should find it possible to assent to the American point of view in this case,
not only would much diplomatic wrangling be avoided, but a blow
would be struck at rum traffic, which might go far to check that traffic even in advance of the date when the liquor treaty
with Great Britain becomes effective.

OTTO H. KAHN AND B. F. YOUNG, who has been depended upon as principal witnesses regarding the story of a $1,000,000 oil-slush fund, notified the committee they had no knowledge whatever about it, and were ready to say so on the witness stand.

The ten days' recess was coincident with a sharp reaction in the New York stock market after reports were circulated that a prominent Wall-street trader had turned bearish in the belief that the oil disclosure was undermining public confidence.

WALSH CALLED AWAY
The adjournment was announced after an executive session at the end of the day. It was explained that Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, one of the dominant figures in the pressing of the inquiry, found it necessary to be absent
from Washington for some days.
At this executive session, the committee approved without a record vote the nomination of Hiram Johnson of California as special counsel in the oil cases—Alton Pomerene of Canton O., and Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia.

The nomination of Mr. Roberts was sent to the Senate today by President Coolidge to take the place of that of Owen J. Strawon of Chicago which was withdrawn yesterday.

Traders Said to be Growing
Uneasy Over Inquiry

(BY A. P. MORTIMER) NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—An avalanche of selling orders poured into today's stock market on the widespread circulation of reports that one of Wall street's most prominent traders had suspended his operations on the long side on the ground that public confidence had been undermined by the recent sensational disclosures at the Washington oil lease inquiry. Net losses in the active issues ran from one to eight points.

Powerful financial interests, who usually come to the support of such standard issues as United States Steel and Baldwin, Loeb and Co. apparently permitted the reaction to run its course.

OILS HARDEST HIT
Oils, because of their close association to the Washington inquiry, were the hardest hit, the shares of the Pan-American Petroleum and Sinclair Oil companies which have been relatively steady, fell to active covering by bear traders who have been selling in the oil group.

TRADE NEWS FAVORABLE
The reaction was conducted in the face of favorable trade news which indicated higher pig iron and copper prices.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The Republican House leaders definitely agreed today to make a stand for a maximum surtax rate of 35 per cent instead of the Mellon rate of 25 per cent reported by the Ways and Means Committee.

Tests of a small model were said to have been successful, but the fourteen-foot affair was not given a tryout.

Instead, the Republicans in making a stand for a 35 per cent rate as a compromise and endeavor to shape the situation so that a vote on such a proposal will come before the House on the 25 per cent surtax.

DEMOCRATS HOPEFUL
On the other hand, Democratic leaders are confident that with the aid of Republicans unwilling to go along with the organization, they can write their income tax bill in the House of Representatives.

BASEMENT BAR RICHLY FITTED OF NEWS TRUST

Three Women and Eight Men Arrested by Raiders

Discovery Follows Attempt to Rob Taxi Driver

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) DETROIT, Feb. 15.—Twenty-six policemen, searching for three bandits, battered their way into a residence at 320 Rowena street at 1 a.m. and there discovered a basement barroom, extravagantly fitted with the rich interior trappings of a bootlegger's conception of an oriental palace.

Three women and eight men were found seated at tables, covered with heavy linen and lighted softly by silk-shaded lamps. The rafters and walls were concealed by blue and gold hanging draperies, and thick Persian rugs overlaid the concrete floor. Incense burners were flaming, cut glass chandeliers were twinkling and a phonograph was playing a dreamy waltz.

The three women and eight men were taken into custody for investigation, the bandits in turn were taken down, eleven quarts of gin, eight quarts of whiskey, seven gallons of beer and two slot machines were confiscated.

REMAINS WITH MOTHER. Mrs. Frances Preston, said to be the operator of the place, was found in an upper room ministering to her aged mother, who is critically ill. Mrs. Preston was informed that technically she was under arrest, but was permitted to remain with her mother.

The women, taken police headquarters, said they were Cleo Wither, 18 years of age, 1073 Melmore avenue; Corinne Cole, 35, 423 Theodore street, and Vera Meyer, 27, 233 Watson street.

The men arrested were Leon LaRoch, 1926 Trumbull avenue; William Crumpton, 1940 Jefferson avenue east; Clarence Houghton, 637 Peterboro street; Orvey Johnson, 3421 Hotel; Norman Anderson, 607 Pontiac, and William Lee, Henry Wallace and Raymond Foster, who said they were roomers at the raided residence.

The raid followed a frustrated attempt of three bandits to hold up a taxicab driver. The men were frightened away before completing the holdup and fled in a small coupe. The chauffeur notified the police.

SIMILAR COUP FOUND. While searching the neighborhood, Patrolman Ralph Wilkinson found parked, a coupe similar to the car described by the taxicab driver. A moment later he saw three men enter 320 Rowena street.

The detective bureau flyer, the reserve squad and the flyer from Bethune station answered an alarm, and twenty-six policemen surrounded the house, prepared for a pistol battle. Demands for admission met no response. Officers then battered through a side door, with axes, and swarmed into the luxurious barroom.

GOULD GOLD FACES RAID BY ACTRESS

Edith Kelly Wins Initial Title in Effort to Obtain Half of Estate

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) PARIS, Feb. 15.—Flying from London today Edith Kelly Gould, divorced wife of Frank Jay Gould, entered into the Paris Referee's Court and won the preliminary round of her fight to obtain half the entire estate of her former husband.

The court granted her request that all Gould's wealth be attached pending a decision by the Versailles Civil Court on her claim to half of Gould's total fortune, which she demands on account of having been married under the French law which allows the wife that amount of the husband's estate.

The principle of attachment was held legal by the court which ordered Frank Gould's fortune to be frozen tomorrow a complete list of banks where Gould holds deposits.

Mrs. Kelly's raid on the Gould fortune was the direct result of Frank Gould invoking the French law to make his former wife remove the Gould name from the placards when Edith Kelly returned to the footlights.

NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) TOMBSTONE (Ariz.) Feb. 15.—C. K. Jacobson had a narrow escape from death while working on a pump on the 24-level of the Chance shaft in the Bonanza mine. Heavy rains caused loosening of dirt and rock at the foot of the shaft and precipitation upon him of a vast quantity of debris. He was imprisoned under the wreckage for several hours, but was not injured.

Rise of Associated Press Told by Official

Private Agency Broken in Terrific Struggle

Unbiased Stand Imperative for Organization

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 15.—The Associated Press, which in 1931 freed this country from the "menace" of privately controlled news distribution agencies then operating, Minnesota editors were told here tonight by Melville E. Stone, counsel of the Associated Press.

Addressing members of the Minnesota Editorial Association at a banquet given at the Minneapolis Journal, Mr. Stone, who was general manager of the Associated Press for twenty-five years, termed as "the revolution of 1931" the action of western editors in forming the co-operative news gathering association.

"When in this country," Mr. Stone said, "we speak of the revolution, of course we refer to the contest which began at Concord bridge, and ended at Yorktown. Little more than a century later there was another revolution in our hands, which seems to me to have been also of distinct consequence."

Universal control of the press for many centuries, and, through the first clause in our bill of rights, was broken down in this country, but we did not appreciate that private control was no less malignant than government control.

NEWS TRUST FORMED. "In the late forties, a few of the New York journalists organized a little company called The Associated Press and its laws they sold to the papers in the hinterland as these papers developed. It was a close corporation."

"As time went on and the newspapers in the back country increased, small tributary organizations were formed. In 1932, this central group of a few papers in New York passed under the control of three men—one a Chicago banker, another a telegraph operator, and the third a business manager of a New York paper. These men were responsible to no one and were bent only on money-making. The menace was obvious. Not only were the newspapers dependent on the caprice of these men, but away beyond that the public was subject to any sort of misinformation."

BITTER STRUGGLE. "This was the immediate cause of the revolution of 1932. It began in Chicago. The newspaper men started by the Western Associated Press, mindful as well of our public duty as of our private duty, revolted against this sort of control. There followed a struggle of four years duration. It was a bloodless contest; yet none the less revolutionary."

"The Western men set out to form a national organization, refusing any arrangement with subordinating interests. It was to be an association that should wring the whole business from the hands of profiteers and place it in the hands of a surely co-operative organization—an organization that should sell no news, make no profits, declare no dividends, but should be the agent or joint reporter of its members."

"It was believed that if the people of the country were capable of self-government, a presentation of the facts would enable them to form their own opinions. Therefore, any attempt to introduce opinion upon any event was strenuously forbidden."

NO OPINION GIVEN. "The expression of opinion respecting any fact presented by The Associated Press is left to the newspapers receiving the service. It is there that it belongs."

"There are about 1,300 daily newspapers in the organization. They represent every conceivable point of view respecting politics, religion, economics. However prejudiced these members are; they are in their desire and demand that the organization furnish unbiased news and do it as truthfully as human frailties will permit."

"The privately owned organization went down in defeat and bankruptcy in 1937."

"To those who have been engaged in the work, it seems strange that there should be any doubt as to either The Associated Press's usefulness, or its integrity. All of its activities are carried on in the daylight under a blaring light. There are no secrets about it; in fact there can be none. The news which it furnishes to the newspaper membership is furnished, in the phrase of Mr. Lincoln 'with malice toward none, with charity for all.'"

"Many of the criticisms are born of ignorance of the facts. For instance, a man reads something in a newspaper and either overlooks the credit line, or it may be there is no credit line, and he assumes that it is an Associated Press telegram, and at once charges us with the responsibility for it."

"It may also interest you to learn that by actual investigation in the thirty years that have passed, although thousands of words have been sent out daily, and although there have been 13,000 newspaper printings of its dispatches, the total cost of lawyer's fees and all other payments incidental to the service, this must be some proof that accuracy is earnestly sought."

FOUND BOYS' SCHOOL. (BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) WELLINGTON (N. Z.) Feb. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kolling of Mossvale, N. Z., have established a foundation of $500,000 for the erection and maintenance of a Marine college for boys.

The college will provide a high school education for the orphans of deceased Masons. Mr. Kolling is a former Grand Master of New Zealand.

HUMAN CARCASS VALUE SMALL

Doctor Finds Elements to Make up Body Worth 96 Cents

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) CANTON (Tex.) Feb. 15.—The net material value of an average human being is 93 cents, according to analytical research made by Dr. C. A. Pierle, head of the department of chemistry at the West Texas Teachers' College here.

Dr. Pierle has found that the body of a man weighing 150 pounds, if divided into its component chemical elements, would be found to contain enough water to wash a pair of blankets, enough iron to make a ten-penny nail, lime sufficient to whitewash a small chicken coop and rough sulphur to kill the fleas on a good-sized dog.

All these elements, he estimates, could be purchased at a drug store for 93 cents.

STAGE STAR MAY MARRY NOBLEMAN

Gertie Millar, Widow of Lionel Monckton, to Wed Earl, Report Declares

(BY HENRY WALES) PARIS, Feb. 15.—Following the death of Lionel Monckton, it is understood that his widow, Gertie Millar, English musical comedy star, will immediately marry the Earl of Dudley. Both are now at Cannes from where it is reported that their wedding is imminent.

Baron Rau von Holzhausen, a young German nobleman, shot himself in Gertie Millar's apartment in London twenty years ago after which her husband separated from her immediately. He always refused to consent to a divorce.

Both Miss Millar and the Earl of Dudley have been living in Paris for three years.

Miss Millar has been one of the most popular of the musical comedy actresses playing in the British capital. Her manner of singing "Keep off the Grass" in the Torador brought her from the chorus to stardom in a night. She featured many songs composed by her husband.

The suicide of Baron Rau von Holzhausen in Miss Millar's home in London in 1915, created a sensation. The young man, who was married to her, became infatuated with the star and followed her from France to London. It was to be a struggle to repel his attentions, she forced his way into her home.

Lord Dudley has been a sportsman. His wife, who served in the South African war and was popular in England as a sportsman. His wife, the Countess of Dudley, was drowned in June, 1920, while swimming near the Earl's home in Ireland.

SUSPECT IN REID DEATH IN CUSTODY

"Dapper Dan" is Arrested in Paris; Was Mentioned in Taylor Murder

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—"Dapper Dan" Collins has been arrested in Paris by New York detectives, the police department learned by cable today, and will be brought here for trial in connection with the shooting of John H. Reid, a silk manufacturer, in the Bronx apartment of Hazel D. Warner in 1921.

The suspect in the "Jockey" wanted for the robbery of the Albert R. Shattuck home on Washington Square two years ago. The cablegram announced that "The Jockey" was in custody and that papers were being prepared for the extradition to this country of both "The Jockey" and "Dapper Dan," who carried the sobriquet "The Rat" among the Apaches of Paris.

The name of "Dapper Dan" frequently has been on the lips of detectives in their hunt for the slayers of Dorothy King, the model murdered a year ago, and of Louise Lawson, who was strangled last week.

Collins also was mentioned in connection with the murder in Hollywood of William Desmond Taylor, film director.

FOSTER PARENT Is Entitled to War Insurance

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) CINCINNATI (O.) Feb. 15.—United States Circuit Court of Appeals opinion and mandate in the appeal of Robert Helmholz, et al, Los Angeles, versus Mrs. Catherine Horst, Cincinnati, and the United States, affirming the decree of the United States District Judge John W. Peck awarding to Mrs. Horst war risk insurance on her foster son, and nephew, Albert R. Marshall, who was killed in action in United States District Court here last today.

The appellants in this action are half sisters and brother of Marshall.

The case is considered by legal authorities nationally as settling the most vexing question regarding the matter of World War Risk Insurance and will be quoted nationwide in law courts perpetually in inheritance where a foster parent, or contending against deceased blood kin, such as brothers and sisters.

FILIPINO BAND WAGON HALTED

Too Many Want to Go on Freedom Mission

Luxury Sensed by Island Legislators

Quezon Anxious to Keep Parvenus Out

(BY NATAL RADIO-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) MANILA, Feb. 15.—After three consecutive trials, Manuel Quezon, President of the Senate, is unable to get the independence band wagon started toward Washington because so many members of the independence commission (which is the legislative mission) seem to like the golden notes of the music and therefore insist on joining the band.

The commission has had three stormy sessions, with the object of determining the personnel list of the "parliamentary mission" for the United States the members being entitled to traveling expenses and $100 a month. It is Quezon's plan to limit the membership to six, three Senators and three Representatives, the former chairman and Senator Manuel Roxas, now in Washington, would be the other chairman.

Quezon is anxious to keep out the parvenus who are anxious to join the mission, but he is unable to do so because of the opposition of the island legislators.

FLOOD OF PROTESTS. Nearly 400,000 members of those clubs swamped the House with protesting postal cards, but many members did not need this encouragement. They arose by the dozens to defend their liberty. It was even estimated that evaporation in Wales would send many hardy miners emigrating to America which was not near so dry as it was painted. And optimistic local opinionists retorted that the miners could not save enough money to emigrate until they quit drinking.

Altogether it was one grand field day for old John Barleycorn and there are more to come. R. H. Morris started the ball rolling by stating that he did not know whether drink constituted an evil, but he knew that the country's bleeding laws did.

CALLS BILL UNFAIR. J. C. Gould had this to say: "This bill is unfair and is designed ultimately to bring prohibition to Wales. Under it a golfer is liable to six months' imprisonment if he gave a guest a drink from a bottle kept in his locker. The bill would not be large enough to hold all the golfers who would break this law."

Former Prime Minister Lloyd George said: "Our industrial outlook is very serious. Our drink bill is $1,720,000 per year more than we can afford. In America, the people would not revert to the old condition if they had a chance. They have more money to spend for the things that labor produces."

Mrs. Gladys Robinson, champion woman speed skater of Canada and the United States, has decided to turn professional.

LOZANO FORMER POWER

For years Lozano was the only majority man who dared expose the party's management, but he is no longer alone. When the mission finally is authorized, it is understood it will be permanent, which makes membership in it especially desirable. It also is understood Gov. Gen. Wood is looking at this independence fund question from a new angle.

If it is found that the Legislature created an office of public trust for themselves by creating a commission and providing a continuing appropriation of $250,000 gold annually, then it is believed contrary to the organization act. Such a ruling would require the Legislature to discontinue its lectures in America, according to the commission's annual report, and also leave the propaganda bureau at Washington without finances, while the merry missionaries might be embarrassed suddenly for tickets home.

PEOPLE UNIFORMED

The opinions of some Filipinos would be even stronger against these junkets if they knew the American people were paying from their taxes two official resident commissioners for taking care adequately of the islands. Washington affairs, while the insular bureau of the War Department is functioning chiefly to the same end.

With a population of 11,000,000 and a newspaper circulation of more than 30,000, the people remain uninformed.

BARBOUR YIELDS TO IRRIGATIONISTS

WILL EXCLUDE KINGS RIVER WATERSHED FROM PARK BILL

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) FRESNO, Feb. 15.—Congressman H. E. Barbour today excluded the Kings River watershed from the proposed enlargement of the Sequoia National Park, according to demands of irrigationists of the San Joaquin Valley, according to his telegram from Washington.

Irrigation organizations had fought the Barbour enlargement bill on the grounds that the exclusion of the Kings River watershed would develop a water storage and power sites on the upper reaches of the Kings River.

The Kings River watershed, which would include 1,000,000 acres, would be a power site, and would be a water storage district, which would include 1,000,000 acres.

Fine Flat's executive committee, leaders in the fight on the Barbour bill, today accepted Barbour's proposal to exclude the watershed and withdrew its opposition to the park bill.

Barbour announced he would either offer an amendment excluding the river area to his present bill, or introduce a new bill which comes up for action shortly in Congress.

PROHIBITION UP IN PARLIAMENT

Bill for Wales Local Option Stirs Commons

Wet Predicts Miners Would Flee to America

Passage Indicated by Vote on Defeated Motion

(BY PAUL WILLIAMS) LONDON, Feb. 15.—With a dusty specter of prohibition smiling sardonically down from the rafters, members of the House of Commons debated loudly and lengthily on the merits of local option. And the majority are for it if the defeat of a motion offered by wide-open and unrestrained wets may be regarded as an omen.

When the result of the count was announced a number of the Honorable Gentlemen who had been nervously moistening their lips during the discussion hastily set in the general direction of the jolly drinking bar—or can-teen—for a parliamentary pick-me-up.

The measure which aroused heated conversation was for elections in Wales every three years, beginning in 1929, on the question of local option. It also places licensed clubs in the same category with saloons.

FLOOD OF PROTESTS. Nearly 400,000 members of those clubs swamped the House with protesting postal cards, but many members did not need this encouragement. They arose by the dozens to defend their liberty. It was even estimated that evaporation in Wales would send many hardy miners emigrating to America which was not near so dry as it was painted. Lumberjack Too Proud to FRESNO, Feb. 14.—Vanity is not confined to females, according to Police Nurse Stapleton. It is found in males, too, he said yesterday, especially as regards their physical prowess.

Early yesterday morning Robert Gilliland, 40 years of age, a lumber-camp rigger, sought treatment at the city emergency hospital for a badly bruised and cut right eye. Gilliland, a remarkable specimen of a man, according to the nurse, said he had been hit in the eye with an automobile crank.

A few hours later, however, police appeared at the hospital with Gilliland's assailant, Claude R. Harvey, 23, of 1451 1/2 St., a disabled war veteran, and about half the size of Gilliland. He was suffering from a bruised right hand received, when he hit Gilliland in the eye in a fracas at Harvey's home.

Vagrancy charges were filed against both men by Sgt. Richter, and they were given 150 days suspended sentences on their plea of guilty to the charge.

In reply to a request of Guy W. Smith, local manager, for such transfer, the company has ordered 4000 tons moved now. More will be moved later.

More than 10,000 tons are stored in the Visalia plant of the company and other warehouses of the city. The capacity of the local plant is only 5000 tons. It is estimated that transfers and orders will reduce the tonnage to capacity of the local plant. The 2000 tons are expected to be moved to the Hanford plant and a like amount to San Jose.

FRESNO, Feb. 15.—"Heap bad firewater," police say, made a wild Indian out of Rose Glenn, a comely Indian girl, early yesterday morning, cost the police department a windshield for one of its roadsters, many citizens along Fresno street their slumbers, and Capt. Ben A. Wickstrom his peace of mind.

Blood-curling yells coming from a high-powered machine on California avenue attracted attention of Patrolmen Joseph L. Smith and J. B. Wilson. They gave chase to the car and finally overtook it after they had fired a couple of shots into the air. Mr. Kolb, of Kolb and Dill, returning here from Los Angeles where the company now is playing, aided the officers in overtaking the machine.

The woman was placed in the roadster to be taken to police headquarters, but after striking the windshield out, was replaced in the car in which she had been riding and battled Officer Smith, and screamed all the way to the station.

Arrival at police headquarters failed to silence her and she was handcuffed and shackled and sent to jail.

FRESNO, Feb. 15.—Stanley W. Griffith, accused of kidnaping his 3-year-old son, Billy, at Redlands last Wednesday, was taken to San Bernardino last night by Deputy Sheriff Bottorff, former Fresno county officer, to face trial there. He was arrested here Tuesday afternoon by police at the request of San Bernardino county authorities.

It is charged Griffith fled to Fresno after obtaining possession of his son and remained in hiding here, awaiting the arrival of his father, Mrs. Harold Griffith, who arrived last Sunday evening, according to the authorities, and left early the next morning with her grandson for her home in Seattle.

Mrs. Griffith arrived here Monday night to aid in the search for her husband and child, and left for Redlands shortly after he had been arrested and she heard that her son was in his grandmother's custody. She has been separated for more than a year, police say. Mrs. Griffith leaving her home in Seattle in January, 1923, where she took her son to her parents' home in Redlands.

Leader of Line Sails Out
of Local Harbor Setting
Port Mark

The freighter Edward Luckenbach, pride of the Luckenbach Line, sailed for New York yesterday, drawing thirty-two feet six inches aft, the deepest mark ever made in the local harbor by a commercial craft. She rode on the crest of the five-foot flood tide at daylight behind the tugs Davidson, Fleming and D. M. Ren-ton of the Wilmington Transportation Company, without even touching the water according to W. L. Robertson, pier superintendent of the line.

Aboard her was one of the largest eastbound cargoes in months, comprising 3000 tons of northern lumber and copper, and 1000 tons of fruit, beans, cotton and oil well machinery.

The big vessel, under command of Capt. A. C. Pollett, has the reputation of being one of the fastest freighters under the American flag, maintaining an unbroken record here from Portland, Me., since 1918. She also is credited with clipping off 15 knots hourly during the World War while being chased by German submarines. She is regarded as a freak for speed, and is much faster than the two are the same model, have the same power, and are identical in every physical respect.

The Julia Luckenbach is due today from New York with 2100 tons for this port.

Five other vessels of the same line, almost equally as fast, are the Julia, the Lillian, Dorothy, Walter and Harry, all fifteen-knot vessels.

COTTON LAND OF WORTH LACKING

Expected Imperial Surplus Fails to Develop

Acreage Released by Hindus
is Taken Quickly

Ousted Indians Seek Other Fields for Work

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
EL CENTRO, Feb. 15.—Instead of a surplus of cotton land this year as a result of the enforcement of the anti-labor law against Hindus, real estate men report a shortage of suitable acreage. Inquiries have been received from various points in the southern cotton belt regarding available land here since the report was first circulated that Hindus would be compelled to leave the valley because of the law's operation. Virtually all good cotton land has been leased, it is said, by real estate agents.

Reports on the plans of valley Hindus are conflicting. It has been given out that several of the Hindus have gone back to India, that others have gone to Texas to form a colony near El Paso, while it is asserted others have gone to Detroit to work in the Ford factories preliminary to taking agents in their native land.

None of these reports has been verified by the Hindustani Association here, in which most of the valley Hindus were members. It is understood many of the Hindus may be employed to grow cotton for the Indian owners under contracts for monthly wages.

SPANISH WAR VETERAN SENDS TO GERMANY FOR PROOF
IN SEEKING PENSION

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—It cost Leonard P. Gemund, Iowa, Mich., 1,000,000,000 marks to furnish information to the Interior Department through the Bureau of Pensions concerning the date of his birth.

Gemund recently filed a claim for a pension based on the fact that he had attained the age of 65 years and had served in the company I, Thirty-fourth Michigan Infantry, during the Spanish-American War. He asserted that he was born on March 3, 1864.

The Pension Bureau demanded proofs of the date, and it was necessary for him to send for the record of his birth in Coblenz, Germany. When Gemund received the proof which was forwarded to him from Coblenz there was a fee bill covering copying and postage amounting to 1,000,000,000 marks.

The claimant for a pension sent the birth record obtained in Germany to the Pension Bureau yesterday.

Even Handsome Judge Made
to Look Common

DETROIT, Feb. 15.—Kalam Gardner—if appearance counts for anything—is the complete sheik. He wears bell-bottom trousers. A broad sash proudly embraces his swaying hips. His velvet-edged jacket is a marvel of fanciful decorations in buttons and lapels. His mustache is gracefully arched. His eyebrows no less so. The sheen of his raven locks would make the glossy dome of Rudolf Valentino seem by comparison as dull as a debate on the single tax.

When he one-stepped into Circuit Court it was to the tinkling accompaniment of silver bells concealed somewhere about his heeled patent leather shoes, and from his whole person exuded a scent—exotic, intoxicating, irresistibly sweet.

Kalam—those who admire the screen version type of many Arabian beauty—made even Judge Adolph P. Marschner, easily the handsomest judge on the Wayne county bench, seem rather plain by contrast.

DEMANDS RETRIAL
Kalam, who is 21 years of age, was in court to answer the charge of Miss Dimple Rogers, 16, who accuses the chorus of the Royal Theater (not of Madrid, but Highland Park) that he did wilfully and maliciously keep her Boston bag, containing rouge, lip-stick, knee-tint, eyebrow tweezers, cuticle scissors—in fact all the tools and cosmetics that make up the make-up kit of an artist—the whole valued at $24, and did thereby commit larceny by conversion.

Kalam already had been convicted before William A. Rankin, Highland Park justice of the peace, and condemned therefor to absent himself from dancing circles while spending thirty days in jail. However, he appealed from Highland Park Justice and demanded a retrial by jury in the Circuit Court.

JUDGE FREES HIM

Miss Dimple testified that Kalam met her—and another chorus girl—in front of the theater and invited her for a ride. She accepted and came to Detroit with him, but on leaving him, left her bag in his car. Some weeks later, she said, she met him again and demanded her property. He said, she testified, that the only terms on which she could regain it would be a visit to his apartments. So she called the police and had him arrested.

Judge Marschner, however, dismissed the case, holding that if Kalam were guilty, the crime had been committed in Detroit and was therefore out of the jurisdiction of the Highland Park courts.

Eleven rifles and one revolver were taken from the 235 fanatics who surrendered, the message says. In addition to announcing the dispatch of the fanatics the dispatch also stated:

"Expect to arrest Lazala, the leader, tomorrow. Only a small number of fanatics still are out. Expect to arrest them tomorrow. The Bucar Island campaign is practically ended, though we believe it will be necessary to maintain constabulary soldiers there for a week or two longer. As soon as possible the Mindanao constabulary will be returned to their station, unless conditions on the mainland or elsewhere need their attention."

PAINTER SEEKS
DOUBLE BEAUTYWants Adjunct of Physical Charm in SoulViennese Artist is Here in Hunt for SubjectsPraises Women of America
as Fairest of All

A quest for nine beautiful women has brought Prof. Ernst Linnenkamp, Vienna artist, to Los Angeles to try to find what he's looking for here. He already has discovered six beauties in New York, after looking over an aggregation of 1000 samples of femininity of varying degrees of pulchritude, but he must have fifteen.

Prof. Linnenkamp is accompanied by his wife, who herself is a famous beauty. They will make their home at the Biltmore during their stay in Los Angeles, which may continue for three or four months.

"Picking out the most beautiful women is a big job," commented the professor, "and it takes time. It is probable that I won't be through for a year."

CELEBRATED PAINTER

The artist, who is known as the most celebrated portrait painter in Central Europe, entered upon his novel quest under a commission from the Anstalt Verlag, publishing house of Zurich, Vienna. He has visited only New York thus far, staying there about four months.

"I have been informed that the women on the Pacific Coast are surpassingly beautiful," he said, "and I therefore came straight out here without pausing on the way. I hope to make up the rest of my quota of fifteen in Los Angeles, but if I fall here I shall try San Francisco and other cities on the coast."

The beauties he selected in New York, and who will have their pictures in the elaborate album to be issued by the European publishers, were all society women, said the professor.

BEAUTY OF SOUL

"I was beguiled by chorus girls, actresses, shop girls, stenographers, telephone operators and all kinds of women," he stated, "but the type of beauty I seek was found only among the women of society. They were the only ones possessed of the intelligence, poise, naturalness and other mental and spiritual qualities I require in combination with physical beauty."

"I looked over the group composing the Polaris chorus, but rejected them all. Pretty girls, all of them, very pretty faces, but that's all. There is nothing behind the face. I am seeking for intelligence, soul, qualities for which a beautiful face and form are only the vehicle."

AMERICAN TYPE

"There is a distinct American type," he declared, "and it is the loveliest in the world. It is characterized particularly by naturalness and intelligence. Beauty plus soul. In Europe one finds a distinct type of beauty in each country, charming, it is true, but inclined to too much emphasis of one particular characteristic among the women of any given nationality. In this country there seems to be a blending of the characteristics that form the distinguishing features of the European groups, and the result is a type possessed of the combined charms of all the European types."

"The professor has made a profound study of feminine beauty, and discusses it philosophically and in terms difficult for a layman to follow. The gist of his remarks is broadly to the effect that the American woman is a paragon of charm and that when he gets his collection of fifteen beauties, he'll be able to present a galaxy of feminine beauty that will astound the world."

WIFE SEEKS NOVEL REVENGE

Uses New Formula for Squaring Triangle; Parades
Street With Placard Exposing Other Woman

A unique way of revenging herself on the woman she accused of stealing her husband's affection was taken yesterday by Mrs. Ernest Vaughn of 5211 South Hoover street.

She got some white cardboard out of which she made a placard about two and a half feet wide and four feet long. In dark blue ink and in huge letters she penned the following tale of woe, accusation and disillusionment on it:

THE SANDWICH LEGEND
McDonald, living at 1401 East Fifth street, living at 1401 East Fifth street took my husband away from me on the 14th of October. I was a married man, and he left me penniless, alone and a stranger in Los Angeles with a month's back rent to pay.

Mrs. Vaughn strapped the placard to her back and went marching out on the 14th block on East Fifth street. Back and forth she marched in front of Mrs. McDonald's home at 1401 East Fifth street. Amazed pedestrians looked, looked again and then fell into line behind Mrs. Vaughn. The impromptu parade continued for about an hour. Then John Moanan, who also resides at 1401 East Fifth street, came up.

SEEKING JUSTICE
He asked what was the matter, Mrs. Vaughn informed him that her husband was with Miss McDonald and that she was seeking justice.

"I'll go see," said Moanan. In a few minutes he returned. "Your husband is not there," he said.

"Mind your own business," was Mrs. Vaughn's reply. "I'm going to show that woman up to the world."

TUSSELE LEADS TO ARREST
One word led to another. A tussle followed and a few minutes later Moanan found himself in the hands of officers. He was taken out on the 14th block and held on a charge of battery. Mrs. Vaughn, sign and all, was told to go home. She followed instructions. Moanan was later arraigned and held under $100 bail.

Miss McDonald, according to police, admitted that she had kept company for some time with Vaughn, but declared that she did not know he was married at the time. When she was asked if she told the officers, she told Vaughn not to call on her again, but said that he had made repeated efforts to see her in the past few days.

The meeting was divided into three sessions, the first of which was composed of a series of lectures dealing with the ear, eye, nose, ear and throat, at the Westlake Professional Building.

Special clinics took place during the afternoon and at 1:30 p.m. a demonstration of practical applications of otological studies in rhinology was given by Dr. George Pines and staff of Los Angeles. At 3:30 p.m. there was a demonstration of the audiometer and its practical application to analysis of hearing defects. Both these demonstrations took place at the Leighton Cafeteria at 1920 Orange street.

A dinner was given at the Wilshire Country Club at 6:30 p.m. and Dr. Thomas J. Orison addressed the guests.

Bandit's Capture

High praise for Patrolman O. L. Elliott, who recently shot and captured a bandit who had held up the Leighton Cafeteria at Seventh street and Broadway, is contained in a letter forwarded to The Times by the Leighton Cafeteria resident manager of the cafeteria, Mr. Hoedemaker, in appreciation of the officer's courage and service.

Mr. Hoedemaker stated that the bandit, who was armed with a revolver, was shot and captured by Patrolman Elliott. The bandit was taken to the hospital, where he was treated for his wounds. The police surgeon Dodge treated him for cuts and bruises.

Wife Given Decree on Grounds of Mental Cruelty

Elizabeth McLeod was granted a divorce by Judge Summerfield yesterday on her accusations of mental cruelty.

"He said I embarrassed him in the street," she testified. She also said they had lived together only about six weeks from 1918 to 1921. She also charged that at the time of their final separation her husband took all the savings out of their baby's bank.

CONDITION OR FILM
ACTOR UNCHANGED

Theodore Roberts

The condition of Theodore Roberts, famous motion-picture character actor, who has been confined for the last several weeks at the William Penn Hotel at Pittsburgh by illness, was said last night, according to dispatches from the Pennsylvania city, to be unchanged.

The nurse was quoted in Associated Press dispatches as saying that he was "about the same as he has been for the last ten days." Stories to the effect that Mr. Roberts had been sinking all day yesterday and was in grave danger were denied.

Roberts, who gained an international following through his interpretation of character parts, has appeared in hundreds of films. He was stricken some months ago while on a stage tour of the country.

Suspects in Long Beach
Jail Confess Series of Jobs
in Port District

Apprehension of the second of two bandit gangs which recently terrorized the Los Angeles Harbor district by staging more than a score of grocery, service-station and drug-store hold-ups within a fortnight was assured yesterday in the confession made by James Lamar, 22 years of age; J. P. Lamin, 26, and E. M. Hess, 22, to Detective Lieutenant A. J. Farrell of the harbor police division. The asserted confessions were made by the prisoners at the Long Beach Jail, where they are awaiting trial for several hold-ups and burglaries committed in that city.

The trio confessed holding up F. H. Hummel, grocer, at 3915 Pacific avenue, Los Angeles Harbor, the night of January 26 last, securing $125 in cash, according to Lieut. Farrell. They also were identified by Mr. Hummel.

They are said to have admitted a number of other burglary and hold-up jobs in the port district since they have implicated J. P. (Blackie) Barrett, now awaiting trial in the County Jail, as head of another bandit gang at the harbor.

Milo G. Clouse, a former police officer, yesterday was held to answer by Justice Ballard on a charge of extortion. Ball was charged with having extorted $300 from the Leighton Cafeteria at Seventh street and Broadway, where they are awaiting trial for several hold-ups and burglaries committed in that city.

SENT TO PRISON ON
CHARGE OF ROBBERY

Shirley S. Sheffer, who pleaded guilty to a charge of second-degree robbery last week in Judge Avery's court, yesterday was sentenced to serve from one year to life in San Quentin penitentiary.

Sheffer, 21, was indicted with Sheffer for robbery, is now serving a sentence of from five years to life in San Quentin for first-degree robbery.

The pair were accused of robbing Frank Parlas of 235 East 19th street of $10 and an automobile on October 9, 1933. Later in the evening of that day, according to the indictment, they held up James Broughton of 115 East Redondo avenue and robbed him of $12. This latter count was dismissed on a motion of the District Attorney.

Permission has been given by the City Council to Al G. Barnes's circus for the use of Prager Park for the week commencing March 17.

GIRL MUST

CHECK CASE

Asserted Grand-daughter of Beecher Does Not Find
Man She Accuses

Beatrice Beecher Johnstone, who says she is the grand-daughter of the famous Brooklyn preacher, Henry Ward Beecher, yesterday was held to answer to the Superior Court on a charge of forgery. The ruling was made by Justice Ambrose after Mrs. Johnstone did not bring into court the man who, she says, gave her checks for $50 and $75.

It was after cashing these checks in a Hollywood store that the woman was arrested and charged with forgery. The person whose name appeared on them, it was said, has no account in any local bank. She was charged with writing the checks herself and signing the fictitious name John M. Martin.

Mrs. Johnstone, employed by a real estate firm, told officers she had been given the checks as a commission for sending customers to Martin, an insurance salesman. She did not know where his office was, she said, having met him always at a hotel by appointment.

When the case yesterday was called by Dep. Dist. Atty. Ryan, one John M. Martin appeared as a State's witness. He denied having given Mrs. Johnstone the checks and stated he was the only John M. Martin in the city. Mrs. Johnstone was unable to produce another.

The girl is held in the County Jail under $1500 bail.

HUSBAND GETS DECREE

Home of E. Higgins told Judge Summerfield yesterday that a letter he received from his wife proved to him she had left him permanently. "Surely you should know that our separation three years ago was final," he declared, "and I am in reply to her efforts to have her return to him. He was granted a divorce."

CHAPLIN IMITATOR OFFERS BULLFIGHT BULL-FIGHT

By Grace Kingsley

Charlie Chaplin might well write a book called "Bullfighting in Spain." And it begins to look as though what all the reformers and societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals cannot do with their solemn and earnest palaver, Charlie Chaplin is going to accomplish with his kidding. Anyhow, that's what his friends say.

The matter in hand is bullfighting in Spain—that terrible pastime which Spain's queen, formerly an English princess, tried in vain to get the people to relinquish when she first wedded Alfonso, and which Charlie Chaplin indirectly is aiding to exterminate by laughing it to death.

Owing to the fact that there are no popular favorites in the ranks of the matadors in Spain at present, interest in their bullfighting pastime has been rapidly waning. This, and Chaplin's indirect aid in the matter, is all pointed out in an article by Mary Wold Coates in a recent issue of the Independent.

A stimulant in the form of mock bullfighting has been injected into the arena of sport, according to Miss Coates. It found instant favor with the populace, thus causing a further decline in the popularity of the real bullfight.

The name of the new sport is "Charlotada," a word coined from "Charlot," the popular cognomen of Chaplin in Europe. A comedian, an imitator of Chaplin, is the matador of this ridiculous travesty, which is arranged with all the pomp and grandeur of a royal bullfight. The infanta enters the royal box while the band plays the Marche Real. He is staged quite according to the Hoyle of the arena.

"Charlot," our Charlie, hat, trousers, his shoes and all, even to the small dog on a string, enters with all the dignity of a favorite matador. The bull used for the fray, while alive, is a poor specimen of bulldom, harmless as a calf. The legitimate bullfight in its entirety is imitated, but all in true Chaplin fashion.

Walking backward to the bull, Charlot invites combat. He gazes into the animal's eyes, mounts his back, removes his hat and fans himself and perches on the horns. When, occasionally, the bull displays enough energy to throw him a few feet, the comedian rolls over, rights himself and walks away adjusting his derby. The crowd is uproarious at the antics.

This is the thing that is going to kill the legitimate bullfight in Spain, one Spaniard is quoted as saying, and others suggested the same possibility. "When the populace begin to laugh at a thing instead of taking it seriously, its future is doubtful."

Charlie did a burlesque bullfight in one of his old pictures, and this is the origin of the Spanish burlesque.

Bach Sonata

Is Highlight at Concert

Contrary to the usual rule, classic art outshone the more modern as a source of interest at the ninth concert of the Los Angeles Chamber Music Society, given last evening at the Gamut Club. Three works were played and two of these, at least, were heard for the first time locally. The Maquarre Ensemble and Blanche Lott, pianist, offered the program, the personnel of the ensemble including Andre Maquarre, flutist; Jules Lensele, although not infrequently the fine sense of balance between the tonal volume of the piano and the flute was destroyed.

The first number of the evening was a Sonata, Op. 65, by J. S. Bach. It proved to be a thoroughly musical affair, light, happy and very well written.

Theodore Gouvy, was the last number performed. Not an extraordinary composition, nor was it played with unusual inspiration. The Lamento con basso continuo was impressive, and well received. The Rondo Glocece was really the most interesting movement, and was the best performed movement of the entire sextet.

Mong Suffers

From Malady He Scoffed At

Today William V. Mong is a sick, sick man. Mentally as well as physically, this character delineator of the silver-sheet is endeavoring to convalesce from a series of shocks that have jarred his peace of mind and secondly, his optical nerves.

Sitting in an easy chair in his den at his Hollywood home, Mong looks like a man who has been scuffed at the inevitable. And surrounding the invalid are a few "old" friends rubbing balm into his open wound.

For Mong, the scuffer, has fallen victim to a malady which is the scourge of the studios. Never again will the master of every branch of film making at Universal City be the same. He is now a man who is inclined to believe in the modern conception of Santa Claus right now.

Mong was always hailed "kleg" eyes" stories as ethereal dreams of spiritualistic publicity purveyors. He was private in the rear ranks of the armies captained by scores of editors who said, "there ain't no such thing as a free lunch."

Mong will be out and about in a few days if all goes well, eye specialists say. The damage may be removed tomorrow and in the meantime the actor is glaring at friends (?)—if one can glare without the use of the camera—and muttering to himself in Poesque fashion—"nevermore."

Wanda Hawley in It

If you have been worrying because you haven't seen Wanda Hawley of late in her usual haunts, you may quiet your fears. Miss Hawley is in New York, where she has been engaged by Chadwick Pictures to play the leading role opposite Lionel Barrymore in "Meddling Women."

Festive Note

Entertaining a large party of friends at the Ambassador Hotel on St. Valentine's night, Herbert Brenon, Paramount producer, and Mrs. Brenon celebrated the twentieth anniversary of their wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Brenon were married St. Valentine's Day in New Orleans, 1904. At that time Mr. Brenon was a young actor.

DAILY TRADE TALK DRAMA OF OIL PLUS POLITICS LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Under a heavy bombardment of selling orders the oil listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yielded substantial ground in yesterday's trading. Union Oil Associates, the decline, the former stock breaking 3 1/2 points and the latter 2 1/2. Oil prices held steadily and failed to reflect the selling in the stocks.

Petroleum common opened at 4 and quickly fell under the influence of the bearish rumors 1 1/2 from the previous day to 2 1/2 at the close. Standard of California declined 1/2 to 4 1/2, while Globe Petroleum was unchanged at 5 cents. Good buying support held United Oil against selling attempts and the stock closed up 1/4 at 2 1/2. U. S. Royalties rose 1/4 to 15 cents.

20th Consolidated was an active trader in the mining list, selling around 12 cents. Teclide was traded in at 2 1/2 and Yellow Dog Extension at the same price. United American sold at 6 cents.

Snowdrift

SNOWDRIFT—a pure, rich, creamy cooking
fat—is made by the Wesson Oil people out of oil as good as a fine salad oil. (You need oil that's good to eat to make cooking fat as good as cooking fat can be.) Then

Snowdrift is packed in a truly air-tight bucket (air-tight—but as easy to open as winding the clock) to keep it as sweet and fresh as the day it was made—sweet and fresh all the way down to the bottom of the bucket.

Truss the stuffed duck, place in a roasting pan on a rack, add to the pan one chopped stalk recipe for cocoa. A good many people, when they are in a hurry, cook cocoa too hastily, and the result is a beverage that frequently disturbs delicate digestion. Here is a standard rule for making breakfast cocoa: one and one-half tablespoons of cocoa, two tablespoons of sugar, two tablespoons of boiling water, two cups of milk, and a few grains of salt. First have the scalded milk ready, then mix the cocoa and salt and the sugar, and dilute this mixture with one-half cup of boiling water. When a smooth paste has been formed, add the rest of the water and boil for about five minutes. Stir this mixture into the scalded milk and beat thoroughly until frothy. Place the prepared cocoa into the upper part of a double boiler and cook for at least twenty minutes.

I would like to have a recipe for canning strawberries. M. B. S. A well-known authority on canning gives the following advice for canning strawberries. Use only fresh, ripe and sound berries. After preparing them, add equal ounces of sugar and two tablespoons of water to each quart of berries; boil slowly for fifteen minutes in an enameled or an acid-proof kettle; allow the berries to cool by remaining several hours or overnight in the kettle. Pack the hot berries in hot glass jars. Put the rubbers and the caps of the jars in position, but do not screw on tight. Sterilize as follows, according to the method of canning which you are following: Home-made water bath, eight minutes; water seal, 24 degrees, six minutes; five pounds steam pressure, five minutes. Remove the jars, tighten the covers, invert to cool and test; wrap the jars in paper to prevent bleaching.

FOOTHILLS SOCIETY HAS ROAD PROJECT

Plans for the improvement of Beverly Boulevard to make a through route from Whittier Boulevard to Santa Monica will be started at a banquet of the Hollywood Foothills Improvement Association Tuesday evening at the Ritzmore. City and county officials have been invited. One of the chief purposes of the association, it is announced by H. H. Merrick, president of the association, is to co-ordinate all the interested parties to begin a definite program in the project.

It will be necessary to lay out a new road in some sections and widen and improve in others, Mr. Merrick said. The proposed road is expected to greatly relieve traffic congestion and aid in the development of a considerable area of residential property.

In This Week's "Digest" Nearly a Million Votes IN THE RECORD-BREAKING NATIONAL POLL ON TAX REDUCTION Are Tabulated State by State

Never before has such a comprehensive unofficial poll of the Nation been made. The Haven Evening Register declares that "we are actually given the spectacle of a weekly holding an informal national election" in this nation-wide canvass of the electorate to test sentiment for or against the Mellon Plan of Tax Reduction. 886,900 ballots have so far been received, and are tabulated in this week's DIGEST. Fifteen million ballots have been mailed to voters. This represents more than fifty per cent of the number of ballots cast in the last Presidential election. They are being returned by the tens of thousands daily.

The sheer size of this greatest of all referendums may be visualized when one considers that if the ballots so far returned were laid end to end they would cover a distance of seventy-five miles! Don't miss reading THE DIGEST this week! You will probably be particularly interested in learning how your State is voting on this vital question. Recommendation that the Federal government erect a high wire along the international border five miles both at Calexico and Yuma will be made to Department of Justice officials, Assistant Attorney General Wheeler stated yesterday. This is in addition to his recommendation that the border be closed at Calexico at 8 p. m. day to "have Imperial county from ruin."

As an evidence of the depth to which the situation has sunk, said Wheeler, "not only the dance girls and prostitutes, but the male hangers-on, camp followers and human beings that live off the earnings of the women, are licensed."

Wheeler will urge also, he said, that immigration be increased from seventy to thirty men at the two points. Wheeler declared there are hundreds in the various Mexican settlements and that a new one, costing $110,000, is to be built at Calexico.

Wheeler also declared that American gamblers and other lawless elements are running and operating in the area, and that American law enforcement agencies are frequently given knock-out blows by the Mexicans.

Wheeler's denial followed news made in Los Angeles yesterday by Los Angeles Mayor Frank J. Murphy, who said that the situation at the border is a "very serious one."

Investigation will be launched, the Governor said, to determine if the situation is as serious as he has been told. If found they will be all persons connected with the situation arrested and deported.

The image shows a close-up of a newspaper page, likely a directory or a list of residents. The text is arranged in columns, with names and addresses visible. The left side of the page is heavily shadowed, making the text difficult to read. The right side shows more legible text, including names like "HARRISON, W." and "HARRISON, W." and addresses like "1000 W. 10th St." and "1000 W. 10th St.".
